FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PROLOGIS APPOINTS THREE NEW LEADERS TO MANAGEMENT TEAM; ANNOUNCES ANDERSON RETIREMENT

*Andrus to become chief operating officer; Ghazal to become chief investment officer;
Uthayakumar to join Executive Committee*

SAN FRANCISCO (November 15, 2023) – Prologis, the global leader in logistics real estate, today announced three new appointments to its Executive Committee – Carter Andrus as chief operating officer (COO), Joseph Ghazal as chief investment officer (CIO) and Susan Uthayakumar, the company's current chief energy and sustainability officer effective January 1, 2024. As part of the company's long-term and ongoing succession planning, it also announced that Gary Anderson, the current COO, will move to a new role as senior advisor effective January 1, 2024, and retire on June 30, 2024.

Andrus will become the company's new chief operating officer and join the Executive Committee. In this new role, he will lead the company's global real estate organization. Andrus joined Prologis in 2008 and has held a number of leadership roles at the market, regional and global level. Most recently, he served as global head of operations. Prior to joining Prologis, Andrus was a senior vice president at Colliers.

Ghazal will take on the role of chief investment officer and join the Executive Committee, leading all of the company's global capital deployment strategy and execution as well as the Investment Committee. With more than 20 years of tenure at Prologis, Ghazal brings deep capital deployment and leadership experience to the CIO role. The company's global construction operation will also report into him.

Uthayakumar will continue in her role as chief energy and sustainability officer and will join the Executive Committee. Uthayakumar joined Prologis in January 2022 and led the development of the company's net zero strategy, extending its leadership position in sustainability while accelerating Prologis' growing renewable energy business. Previously, she was president of Schneider Electric's Sustainability Business Division. All three will report to Dan Letter, Prologis' global president.

"All three leaders bring tremendous experience and vision to their new roles," said Hamid R. Moghadam, co-founder, chairman and CEO of Prologis. "As we continue to grow and evolve as a company, we are putting new leaders in key roles who will help enable our continued growth, scale and talent acquisition. Carter, Joseph and Susan are exciting new additions to our senior management team."

Anderson served as Prologis' COO since 2019, where he led Prologis key business initiatives, including Prologis Essentials, operational excellence, procurement and more. He also has been a driver of the changes the company made to adopt a customer-centric mindset and data-driven approach throughout Prologis. As a member of the senior management team, Anderson has been a significant force in setting the company's strategic direction and our focus on innovation.

"With nearly 30 years at Prologis, Gary has served in significant leadership roles in Europe, Asia, Mexico and the U.S.," said Moghadam. "He has been incredibly influential on the evolution of our strategic capital business, our expansion into non-real estate businesses through our Essentials platform, and our organization-wide commitment to operational excellence and innovation. We're fortunate to have him with us as a senior advisor before he retires next year."

"I'm grateful for the variety of opportunities Prologis has afforded me over an almost 30-year career and am tremendously proud to be part of the business that our talented global colleagues have collectively built over that period," said Anderson. "I am more optimistic about the company's prospects today than at any point in my tenure."
